Thank you for entrusting VSEC with the care of your pet.

We know that our current protocols for care and service are a bit awkward, frustrating, and inconvenient. Please know that our team is working harder than ever around-the-clock to do the absolute best they can under these circumstances. We will not compromise quality of care for speed of care – and we appreciate your understanding and support.

As for our process for reopening our doors... We know that some businesses are slowly reopening throughout the region and the country. We're not there yet. We look forward to the day when we can welcome you safely back into the clinic. In the meantime, please know that we are assessing the situation daily. There is nothing more important to us than the health and safety of everyone – our team, our patients, and our clients.

As always, our commitment remains to provide the gold standard of care to your furry family members.

Should you wish to acknowledge our team online, you'll find us on Yelp, Facebook, and Google.
